

ePresentment Solutions

O'Neil's ePresentment platform, called ONEconnect, helps our clients build stronger relationships with their customers by communicating the way your clients demand. With ONEconnect, every communication touchpoint is available to your customer, including cloud-based applications, such as Box and iCloud, and even social media sites.

When a new document is available, ONEconnect will even notify your audience in real-time, via eMail, text messaging, and smart phone notifications.

ONEconnect helps you create a deeper engagement with your audience, while savings millions of dollars in print and postage costs. ONEconnect electronically presents or delivers critical compliance and marketing communications documents, including billing statements, compliance letters, welcome kits, ID cards, contracts, confirms, personalized direct mail and other data-driven communications.

ONEconnect is part of our ONEsuite solution, providing an array of services that empower you to create and deliver effective marketing, sales and critical business documents, in all media formats.

ONEconnect helps our clients drastically reduce print costs, and provides a higher level of customer service and audience satisfaction.
